2.5 It is understood that the Products are designed solely as a reference for practicing healthcare professionals, and that as such, they may integrate clinical and financial information with other information of multiple origins. Company is not responsible for the accuracy of any information obtained from the Products or for any damages resulting from Client's use or misuse of such information. Company shall not be deemed to be engaged, either directly or indirectly, in the practice of medicine or the dispensing of medical services or advice. It is incumbent upon Client to verify the proper use and interpretation of information obtained from the use of the Products. Accordingly, Client acknowledges and agrees that (i) Company is not a health care provider, (ii) the Products provide only sample forms and templates, (iii) the treatments, procedures, information, medications, products and other matters referenced by the Products are not intended as a recommendation or endorsement of any course of treatment, procedure, information, product or medication and (iv) any and all responsibility for diagnosing, treating and/or providing any other medical care to any Patient, as well as drafting or completing all written materials related to such Patient and for ensuring compliance with any applicable federal, state, American Podiatric Medical Association, state medical association, or local laws, rules and regulations, and professional ethical guidelines which may apply to Client, Authorized Users, such materials and/or the practice of medicine, rests exclusively with Client and the physicians and the other professionals treating such Patient.

2.6 Third Party Registries. The Products may contain functionality to collect and transmit certain data for certain components of the Merit-based Incentive Payment System (“MIPS”), or for other clinical data reporting programs of the Centers for Medicare & Medicaid Services (“CMS”) or other government agencies or programs, to certain third party registries (the “Registry Functionality”). If the Order Form indicates that Client has elected to implement a registry reporting option then Client, Client, on behalf of itself and each of its Authorized Users, hereby authorizes Company (i) to provide any measures, information, data or material entered into the Products and/or generated by the Products, including, without limitation, MIPS measure calculations (“Registry Information”), to a third party registry and (ii) to use and disclose the Registry Information for any purpose and in any manner not prohibited by law (the “Registry Services”). Client acknowledges and agrees that (i) Company may deactivate the ability to transmit Registry Information to any third party from time to time in Company’s sole discretion and (ii) the Registry Functionality and the Registry Services may not be available for use by Client or its Authorized Users from time to time in the sole discretion of Company. Without limiting the foregoing, Client further acknowledges and agrees that no Authorized Users shall use the Registry Functionality in the Products or the Registry Services if Client is not then current in all payments owed to Company. Each Authorized User shall follow all guidelines, protocols and procedures specified by Company with respect to the use of the Registry Functionality and Registry Services. Notwithstanding anything in the Transaction Documents to the contrary, Company may, in its sole discretion, modify, update, revise, enhance or change any aspect of the Registry Services.

2.7 Conversions and Document Loads. If the Order Form or a Statement of Work contemplates a data conversion or document load then Company shall use commercially reasonable efforts to perform such data conversion or document load. Company and Client agree that in the event that Company determines, in its sole discretion, that it is unable, using commercially reasonable efforts, to perform the data conversion or document load for Client that was previously specified on the Order Form or a Statement of Work, then (i) if Company provides written notice of such determination to Client (the “Conversion Notice”) then Company shall have no further obligation to perform the data conversion or document load and (ii) Client’s sole and exclusive remedy shall be for Client to receive a refund of the unused portion of the fee paid by Client to Company with respect to the data conversion or document load as determined by Company. Client agrees that any fees charged by any other vendor that relate to, or arise out of, any data conversion or document load are the responsibility of Client. Client represents and warrants to Company that Client (i) has obtained all necessary third party permissions for Company (and its designees) to perform any data conversion or document load contemplated by this Section 2.7 and (ii) has the right to permit Company (and its designees) to perform such data conversion or document load.

2.8 Interfaces. Client acknowledges and agrees that if the Order Form or a Statement of Work contemplates that Company shall establish an interface between any Product and another Product or a third party product or service (each, an “Interface”) that the cooperation and services of third parties may be necessary in order to establish such Interface and, as such, Company does not guarantee when, or if, any Interface will be established. Client acknowledges and agrees that the timing of the completion of any Interface will not impact the Client’s obligations under the Transaction Documents, including, without limitation, the obligation to pay all Fees. Company and Client agree that in the event that Company determines, in its sole discretion, that it is unable, using commercially reasonable efforts, to establish an Interface for Client that was previously specified on the Order Form or a Statement of Work, then (i) if Company provides written notice of such determination to Client (the “Interface Notice”), Company shall have no further obligation to establish the applicable Interface and (ii) Client’s sole and exclusive remedy shall be for Client to receive a refund of the unused portion of the fee paid by Client to Company with respect to the establishment of such Interface as determined by Company. For the avoidance of doubt, Company has no obligation to modify any Interface after its initial establishment or provide any new interfaces. Client agrees that any fees charged by any other vendor that relate to, or arise out of, an Interface are the responsibility of Client. Client agrees that Company may impose such limitations on the use of any Interface in conjunction with any Products as Company may deem appropriate.

2.9 Analytics. If Company or its Affiliates provide any measures, information, data or material of third parties (whether or not aggregated with any measures, information, data or material of Client) to Client or its Authorized Users through a dashboard or any other means then Client and each of its Authorized Users shall treat all such information as Company's Confidential Information and shall only use such information for Client's internal business purposes. Client and each Authorized User shall follow all guidelines, protocols and procedures specified by Company with respect to the use of analytics functionality.

2.10 Biometric Data. Client acknowledges that if any Authorized User uses the microphone recording feature in any of the Products to record the Authorized User's voice, Company may collect and store the Authorized User's voiceprint, which voiceprint constitutes biometric data under certain laws governing the collection, use, storage and disclosure of biometric data. Client acknowledges and agrees that Client has been advised of, and understands that Company and its agents and contractors may collect, use, store and disclose biometric data for the purposes described herein and Client shall advise its Authorized Users regarding the collection, use, storage and disclosure of biometric data as provided herein. Company may utilize the voiceprint in any recordings to transcribe text for a Patient's medical record, to improve the microphone feature and for other product improvement and development purposes. The biometric data will be retained and destroyed in accordance with Company's policies related to biometric recordings and applicable law.

3. Fees.

3.1 General. In consideration for the rights granted and services offered to Client in this Agreement, Client agrees to pay Company all fees set forth on the Order Form or otherwise specified in the Transaction Documents (the "Fees") in accordance with the terms of the Transaction Documents.

Any payment owed by Client to Company hereunder and not paid to Company when due (an "Overdue Payment") may accrue, at Company's discretion, late charges at the rate of one and one-half percent (1.5%) of the outstanding balance per month, or at the maximum rate permitted by law, whichever is lower, from the date such payment was due until the date paid.

3.3 Payment. Unless otherwise specified in the Order Form, any one-time fees specified on the Order Form are due and payable on the execution of the Order Form by Client. Unless otherwise specified in the Order Form, monthly Fees are due in advance on the first day of each calendar month to which such Fees apply. All amounts paid are non-refundable.

3.4 Payment Method. Client shall pay Company for any other amounts due under the Transaction Documents by electronic payment. Client shall execute, complete and deliver to Company the electronic payment authorization form (the "Electronic Payment Authorization Form") provided to Client by Company or otherwise use such payment portal as directed by Company if an Electronic Payment Authorization Form is not already on file with Company. If the account or other information specified in the Electronic Payment Authorization Form or portal changes during the Term, Client shall provide Company with a revised Electronic Payment Authorization Form or otherwise update the portal in a timely manner so as to avoid incurring an Overdue Payment.

3.5 Changes to Fees. Without limiting any provisions of the Transaction Documents, Company may change the Fees and discounts set forth in any of the Transaction Documents by providing at least thirty (30) days prior written notice (the “Notice Period”) of such change to Client. Any such change shall take effect at the beginning of the next Renewal Term after the expiration of the Notice Period.

3.6 Currency. All amounts set forth in the Transaction Documents are denominated and shall be paid in U.S. dollars.

3.7 Taxes. All amounts payable by Client to Company pursuant to the Transaction Documents (including, without limitation, pursuant to any Statement of Work) are exclusive of all local, state, federal and foreign taxes, levies, or duties of any nature (“Taxes”), and all payments to Company are payable in full without reduction for Taxes. Client is responsible for payment of all Taxes, excluding taxes owed by Company based on Company’s net income. If Company has the legal obligation to pay or collect Taxes for which Client is responsible pursuant to this Section, the appropriate amount shall be invoiced to and paid by Client, unless Client provides Company with a valid tax exemption certificate authorized by the appropriate taxing authority.

4. Client’s Responsibilities; Client’s Sole Responsibility for Medical Services & Client Data.

4.1 Hardware. Unless otherwise explicitly agreed to in writing by the Parties, Client is solely responsible for acquiring, installing and maintaining computer hardware that is adequate to support Client’s use of the Products. Client may request from Company a document describing Company’s recommend hardware, software, and infrastructure to meet the requirements of the Products, provided that such recommendations may be updated from time to time as new functionality is added to the Products and in response to changes in technology. If a dedicated server is required to operate any Licensed Software, Client agrees to provide such server and a suitable area at Client’s site for installation of the server in keeping with commonly accepted practices and with adequate ventilation, connectivity, and power, no later than ten (10) days prior to the anticipated date of installation of the Licensed Software. Furthermore, Client understands and acknowledges that installation of software (other than the Licensed Software) not authorized in writing by Company on such server will entitle Company to terminate technical support or charge on a time and materials basis for any extra effort expended by Company as a result of such unauthorized software. Unless otherwise explicitly agreed to in writing by the Parties, Company will not provide maintenance for any of Client’s hardware. Client expressly acknowledges that Company is not responsible for the safeguard, loss, or recovery of any data stored on Client’s hardware. Client is solely responsible for acquiring and maintaining such internet connections as are necessary for Client to use the Products.

4.2 Client Data. Client is responsible for all activities that occur under logins assigned to Client’s Authorized Users. Client shall have sole responsibility for the accuracy, quality, integrity, legality, reliability and appropriateness of Client Data.

4.3 Service Guidelines. Client and its Authorized Users shall use the Products and any other services provided by Company solely in the Territory for Client’s internal business purposes only as contemplated by this Agreement and shall not use the Products or any other services provided by Company to: (i) send spam or any other form of duplicative or unsolicited communications; (ii) violate any law, rule or regulation; (iii) transmit through or post on the Products or Company’s website(s) unlawful, immoral, libelous, tortious, infringing, defamatory, threatening, vulgar, or obscene material or material harmful to minors; (iv) transmit material containing software viruses or other harmful or deleterious computer code, files, scripts, agents, or programs; (v) interfere with or disrupt the integrity or performance of the Products or the data contained therein; (vi) attempt to gain unauthorized access to the Products, computer systems or networks used to host or provide access to the Products; or (vii) harass or interfere with another user’s use and enjoyment of the Products or the other services provided by Company. Company may, without liability or notice to Client, remove or delete any material stored in the Products that Company determines, in its sole discretion, violates any of the guidelines set forth in this Agreement. In addition to any other remedies Company may have, Company reserves the right to terminate any of the Transaction Documents or terminate any or all of the logins provided to Client or any Authorized User immediately and without notice, if Company becomes aware or determines that Client or any Authorized User is violating any of the foregoing guidelines. Client shall be responsible for verifying the accuracy of results produced using the Products and for proper use of any forms provided by Company. Client shall be responsible for following proper backup procedures to protect against loss or error resulting from use of any or all of the Products. Client shall cause each of its Authorized Users to comply with the terms of this Agreement.

4.4 Taxes on Customer Payments. Client will be solely responsible for determining whether which of its charges are subject to taxation (e.g., sales tax) and, if so, the appropriate rate(s) applicable at each of its locations for the respective charges. Client is advised to consult with its accountants, advisors or attorneys in these regards.

4.5 Third Party Content. Client acknowledges that the Products may contain third party materials, and agrees to the terms set forth in Exhibit B.

4.6 Future Functionality. Client agrees that its purchases are not contingent on the delivery of any future functionality or features, or dependent on any oral or written public comments made by Company regarding future functionality or features.

4.7 TOS. The use of certain Products may be subject to the acceptance of additional terms of service by the user of such Products (including the terms of use set forth on Company's website, the "TOS"). The TOS for a particular Product subscribed to by Client pursuant to the Order Form, if any, are available for review by Client following Client's written request. As a condition to Client's and its Authorized Users' use of the Products, Client shall (a) require its Authorized Users to review and accept the TOS; (b) cause each of its Authorized Users to comply with the terms of the Transaction Documents and the TOS; and (c) to the extent the consent of an Authorized User is needed to participate in whole or in part in a program, secure such consent before conveying it to Company. Notwithstanding any term of the Transaction Documents to the contrary, Client acknowledges and agrees that, from time to time, Company may (in accordance with the process specified in the TOS and without the prior written consent of Client) change, remove, add to (including without limitation by way of additional terms) or otherwise modify the TOS. In the event of a conflict between the TOS and the other Transaction Documents, the terms of the other Transaction Documents shall prevail.

5. Product Updates; Modifications to Services. During the Term, Company may, in its sole discretion, update the Products. Company is under no obligation to make any such updates. Company may offer customizations to the Products requested by Client or additional modules to the Products that may provide specific functionality or services at an additional cost to Client. Any such customizations or modules shall be separately negotiated and priced. For the avoidance of doubt, nothing in the Transaction Documents obligates Company to make any such customizations or modules available to Client or to require Company to make such modules available for free or at any set price. Company may require Client to agree to modified or additional terms in order to access any module, including, without limitation, through a "click-to-agree" addendum or other means acceptable to Company. Without limiting the foregoing, Company may determine, in its sole discretion, whether any specific functionality or services constitute customizations or modules that may be separately negotiated and priced. Notwithstanding anything in the Transaction Documents to the contrary, Company may, in its sole discretion, modify, update, revise, enhance or change any aspect of the Products. Notwithstanding anything in the Transaction Documents to the contrary, Client acknowledges and agrees that Company is under no obligation to provide Client with access to any third party software, website or service through the Products or otherwise and to the extent that the Products provide access to any third party software, website or service Company reserves the right, without prior notice, to suspend, limit or cancel such access for any reason.

6. SOW Services.

6.1 Statements of Work. From time to time, the Parties may execute statements of work that describe the specific services to be performed by Company, including any work product to be delivered by Company (as executed by the Parties, a “Statement of Work”). Each Statement of Work will expressly refer to this Agreement, will form a part of this Agreement, and will be subject to the terms and conditions contained herein.

6.2 Performance of Services. Company will perform the services specified in each Statement of Work (the “SOW Services”) in accordance with the terms and conditions of this Agreement and of each applicable Statement of Work. For purposes of this Agreement, any training services, the establishment of any interfaces, or any data conversions or document loads specified in the Order Form shall be deemed SOW Services under this Agreement. Without limiting other rights of Company set forth in this Agreement, if Company attempts to deliver SOW Services to Client and, unless otherwise specified in the Statement of Work, if Company does not deliver such SOW Services within six (6) months after the date of the Statement of Work to Client and such failure to provide such SOW Services is not primarily due to a failure by Company to perform its obligations under this Agreement then Company shall have no further obligation to provide such SOW Services and all SOW Fees paid or payable by Client with respect to such SOW Services shall be deemed fully earned by Company.

6.3 Changes to Statement of Work. Client may submit to Company written requests to change the scope of SOW Services (each such request, a “Change Order Request”). Company may approve or reject such Change Order Requests in its sole discretion. If Company approves a Change Order Request, then Company will promptly notify Client if it believes that such Change Order Request requires an adjustment to the SOW Fees (as defined below) or to the schedule for the performance of the SOW Services. In such event, the Parties will negotiate in good faith a reasonable and equitable adjustment to the SOW Fees and/or schedule, as applicable. Company will continue to perform SOW Services pursuant to the existing Statement of Work and will have no obligation to perform any Change Order Request unless and until the Parties have agreed in writing to such an equitable adjustment to the SOW Fees and/or schedule, as applicable.

6.4 Client Responsibilities. In connection with the SOW Services, Client will (i) provide qualified personnel who are capable of performing Client’s duties and tasks with respect to applicable SOW Services; (ii) provide Company with access to Client’s sites and facilities during Client’s normal business hours and as otherwise reasonably required by Company to perform the SOW Services; and (iii) perform Client’s duties and tasks under this Agreement, including under any Statement of Work, and such other duties and tasks as may be reasonably required to permit Company to perform the SOW Services. Client will also make available to Company any data, information and any other materials required by Company to perform the SOW Services, including, but not limited to, any data, information or materials specifically identified in this Agreement (collectively, “Client Materials”). Client will be responsible for ensuring that all such Client Materials are accurate and complete.

6.5 SOW Fees and Expenses. For Company’s performance of the SOW Services, Client will pay Company the fees calculated in accordance with the terms set forth in this Agreement, including, any applicable Statement of Work (the “SOW Fees”). In addition, Client will reimburse Company for the following expenses incurred by Company or its personnel in connection with the performance of the SOW Services (the “SOW Expenses”): all out-of-pocket costs and all travel, lodging and other related expenses.

6.6 SOW Payment Terms. Unless otherwise specified in this Agreement or the applicable Statement of Work, Company shall send one or more invoices (each, a “SOW Invoice”) to Client for all applicable SOW Fees and SOW Expenses contemplated by the applicable Statement of Work. Unless otherwise specified in the applicable Statement of Work, all amounts specified in a SOW Invoice are due upon the issuance of such SOW Invoice by Company.

6.7 Ownership. Company will exclusively own all rights, title and interest in and to any software programs, software tools, utilities, technology, processes, inventions, devices, methodologies, specifications, documentation, training manuals, techniques and materials of any kind used or developed by Company or its personnel in connection with performing the SOW Services (collectively “Company Materials”), including all worldwide patent rights (including patent applications and disclosures), copyright rights, moral rights, trade secret rights, know-how and any other intellectual property rights therein. Client will have no rights in the Company Materials except as expressly agreed to in writing by the Parties in the Statement of Work.

6.8 Other Services. Nothing in this Agreement or any Statement of Work will be deemed to restrict or limit Company’s right to perform similar services for any other party or to assign any employees or subcontractors to perform similar services for any other party. Client acknowledges that Company may engage subcontractors to perform certain services.

6.9 Non-Solicitation. During the Term and for a period of twelve (12) months thereafter, Client will not recruit or otherwise solicit for employment any Company employees without Company’s express prior written approval.

7. Intellectual Property.

7.1 Client Intellectual Property. Client represents and warrants that none of the content, materials, designs, text, names, data or other information, including, without limitation, Client Data, provided by Client, its Authorized Users and/or its Patients to Company or Company networks or systems with respect to the Products, the Transaction Documents or otherwise (collectively, “Client Content”), infringes or violates the intellectual property or other proprietary rights of Company or any third party, and Company shall have no liability for any claims arising out of Client Content, including those claims based on infringement. Further, Client and its Authorized Users grant to Company a nonexclusive license to use Client Content, as well as any trade names and/or trademarks of Client, to the extent necessary for Company to provide the Products and any other products or services contemplated by the Transaction Documents (which includes, without limitation, the right to make copies, create illustrations, display personal and/or corporate name(s), and display other Client Content). Nothing in this Section 7.1 shall be deemed to limit Company’s rights under Section 10.4 of these Terms and Conditions or under the Business Associate Addendum.

7.2 Restrictions. Client acknowledges that in providing the Products and the other products and services contemplated by the Transaction Documents, Company utilizes: (i) the Company name, the Company logo, the Company’s domain names, the product names associated with the Products and other trademarks; (ii) certain information, documents, software and other works of authorship; and (iii) other technology, software, hardware, products, processes, algorithms, user interfaces, website content, visual interfaces, interactive features, graphics, compilations, computer code, website elements, Written Documentation, know-how and other trade secrets, techniques, designs, inventions and other tangible or intangible technical material or information (which together with the Products shall be collectively referred to as “Company IP”) and that the Company IP is covered by intellectual property rights owned or licensed by Company (“Company IP Rights”). Except as otherwise expressly permitted herein, Client and its Authorized Users shall not, nor will they assist or encourage anyone else to: (x) sell, license, distribute, publicly perform or display, transmit, edit, adapt, modify, copy, translate or make derivative works based on the Company IP; (y) disassemble, reverse engineer, or decompile any of the Company IP; or (z) create Internet “links” to or from the Products, or “frame” or “mirror” any of Company’s content which forms part of the Products (other than on Clients’ own internal intranets). Additionally, Client and its Authorized Users are not entitled to and will not: (I) sell, grant a security interest in or make or transfer reproductions of the Products to other parties in any way, nor to lease or license the Products to others without the prior written consent of Company; (II) emulate or redirect the communication protocols used by the Products; (III) use or access the Products or any other products or services contemplated by the Transaction Documents in order to build a competitive product or service, (IV) copy any features, functions or graphics of the Products or any other products or services contemplated by the Transaction Documents or (V) exploit the Products or any of its parts for any commercial purpose without Company’s express written consent. Nothing in the Transaction Documents shall be construed to give Client or its Authorized Users any right to inspect, possess, use, or copy the source code (or, with respect to the Subscription Services and other Hosted Software, the object code) used to create or constituting the Products. Neither Client nor its Authorized Users shall apply any process, technique, or procedure designed to ascertain or derive the source code of the Products, or attempt to do any of the foregoing. Client shall not make any copies of any Products. Client shall not alter, change or remove any proprietary notices or confidentiality legends placed on or contained within the Products.

7.3 Ownership and Reservation of Rights. Other than as expressly set forth in the Transaction Documents, no license or other rights in the Company IP Rights are granted to Client or its Authorized Users, and all such rights are hereby expressly reserved by Company. Additionally, and for avoidance of doubt, as between Company and Client, Company shall at all times retain sole and exclusive ownership of, or, as applicable, sole and exclusive rights as a licensee or sublicensee of, all of its copyrights, trademarks, trade names, trade dress, patents, software, source code, object code and other intellectual property rights with respect to the Company IP, including, without limitation, all of the proprietary material provided and/or displayed by Company at the Products, affiliated web sites, extranet, marketing materials or otherwise. Client acknowledges and agrees that the Company IP may contain certain licensed materials and Company’s licensors may independently protect their rights in the event of any violation of the Transaction Documents.

8. Remedies for Breach of Client’s Obligations. 13.1 Agreement Term. Unless terminated earlier as set forth herein, the initial term (the "Initial Term") of this Agreement shall commence on the Contract Date specified on the Order Form and end on the Contract End Date specified in the Order Form. Subject to the terms and conditions of this Agreement, after the Contract End Date and each Renewal Term, this Agreement shall automatically renew for additional terms of one (1) month ending on the next monthly anniversary of the Contract End Date (each such additional term, a "Renewal Term" and, collectively, with the Initial Term, the "Term"), unless either Party provides at least ten (10) days' written notice to the other Party of its intent not to renew the Agreement. For the avoidance of doubt, if no Contract End Date is specified then Company may elect to terminate this Agreement at anytime by providing written notice of such termination to Client. Notwithstanding anything herein to the contrary, Company may, upon written notice to Client, terminate offering any Product or any portion thereof to Client, without offering replacement Products, or support Termination of this Agreement for any reason shall not affect Company's right to recover damages for events occurring before termination. In the event either Party provides written notice of termination of any of the Transaction Documents to the other Party in accordance with the applicable Transaction Document, Company shall have the right to automatically charge Client's bank, credit card or other account designated under Section 3.4, an amount equal to the sum of any outstanding Fees, SOW Fees, SOW Expenses or other amounts owed to Company.

The Client shall have the burden of determining whether the departing physician is entitled to a copy of the Applicable Patient Records. Subject to the terms and conditions of this Section, Company shall not be required to transfer any Applicable Patient Records to a departing physician until the Client directs Company to transfer such Applicable Patient Records and Company determines that the transfer complies with applicable law. Company shall not be responsible for transfers of Applicable Patient Records to Persons that Company determines in good faith to be entitled to receive the Applicable Patient Records regardless of the accuracy of such determination; (iv) If the Client (including an authorized representative of the Client) is unavailable for any reason to give Company written direction as to how to process a Medical Records transfer request, after a reasonable attempt to contact the Client, Company shall be permitted to transfer the Medical Records to any third party requesting the Medical Records in writing if such third party provides Company reasonable written evidence that it has the legal right to request and obtain such Medical Records under applicable law; and (v) In the event of a merger or sale of the Client, Company will transfer a copy of the Client's Medical Records stored in the Hosted Software to the Client's successor or acquirer if requested in writing by the Client. In no event shall Company be responsible for transfers of Medical Records to Persons that Company determines in good faith to be entitled to receive the Medical Records regardless of the accuracy of such determinations. The provision of any Medical Records (including any Applicable Patient Records) by Company under this Section 13.5 shall be contingent upon the payment to Company of a non-refundable fee in such amount as determined by Company with respect to each request for any records pursuant to this Section 13.5. Subject to the requirements of this Section 13.5, Company shall transfer the applicable records in such format as is determined reasonable by Company. The transferee of any records under this Section 13.5 shall be responsible for the cost of any disk drives or other media used by Company for the transfer of such records as well as shipping and handling for the transfer of such disk drives or other media to such transferee. Notwithstanding the foregoing, after the thirty (30) day period commencing on the effective date of termination or expiration of this Agreement, Company shall have no obligation to maintain any copies of or provide any copies of the Medical Records (including any Applicable Patient Records), except as otherwise required by applicable law.

13.6 Survival. Sections 1, 3.2, 3.3, 3.4, 3.6, 3.7, 4.2, 4.4, 6.5, 6.6, 6.7, 6.8, 6.9, 7, 8, 10, 11, 12, 13, and 14 shall survive the expiration or termination of this Agreement for any reason.

Business Associate Addendum

I. GENERAL PROVISIONS

Section 1.1. Applicability. This Business Associate Addendum (this “Addendum”) relates to Protected Health Information received by Company from or on behalf of the Client (“PHI”). This Addendum shall replace and supersede any previous Business Associate Agreement entered into between Client and Company (as assignee of ICS Software Ltd.) and the terms and conditions of this Addendum shall override and control any conflicting terms or conditions relating to Company’s use or disclosure PHI in any other arrangement existing between the Client and Company (as assignee of ICS Software Ltd.).

Section 1.2. HIPAA Amendments. The Parties acknowledge and agree that the Health Information Technology for Economic and Clinical Health Act and its implementing regulations impose requirements with respect to privacy, security and breach notification applicable to Business Associates (collectively, the “HITECH BA Provisions”). The HITECH BA Provisions and any other future amendments to HIPAA affecting Business Associate Agreements are hereby incorporated by reference into this Addendum as if set forth in this Addendum in their entirety, effective on the later of the effective date of this Addendum or such subsequent date as may be specified by HIPAA.

Section 1.3. Regulatory References. A reference in this Addendum to a section in HIPAA means the section as it may be amended from time-to-time. Capitalized terms used in this Addendum without definition shall have the meanings given to them by HIPAA or by this Agreement, as applicable.

II. OBLIGATIONS OF COMPANY

Section 2.1. Use and Disclosure of PHI. Company may use and disclose PHI as permitted or required under this Agreement (including this Addendum) or as Required by Law, but shall not otherwise use or disclose PHI. Company shall not use or disclose PHI received from the Client in any manner that would constitute a violation of HIPAA if so used or disclosed by the Client (except as set forth in Sections 2.1(a), (b) and (c) of this Addendum). To the extent Company carries out any of the Client’s obligations under the HIPAA Privacy Rule, Company shall comply with the requirements of the HIPAA Privacy Rule that apply to the Client in the performance of such obligations. Without limiting the generality of the foregoing, Company is permitted to use or disclose PHI as set forth below:

(a) Company may use PHI internally for Company’s proper management and administrative services or to carry out its legal responsibilities;

(b) Company may disclose PHI to a third party for Company’s proper management and administration, provided that the disclosure is Required by Law or Company obtains reasonable assurances from the third party to whom the PHI is to be disclosed that the third party will (1) protect the confidentiality of the PHI, (2) only use or further disclose the PHI as Required by Law or for the purpose for which the PHI was disclosed to the third party and (3) notify Company of any instances of which the person is aware in which the confidentiality of the PHI has been breached;

(c) Company may use PHI to provide Data Aggregation services as defined by HIPAA;

(d) Company may use PHI to create de-identified health information in accordance with the HIPAA de-identification requirements. Without limiting any other rights of Company under this Agreement, Company may use, create, sell, disclose to third parties and otherwise commercialize de-identified health information for any purposes not prohibited by law. Company owns all right, title and interest in such de-identified health information and any data, information and material created by Company with such de-identified health information. For the avoidance of doubt, the second and third sentences of this Section 2.1(d) shall survive the expiration or earlier termination of this Agreement;

(e) Company may use and disclose PHI to develop, create, improve, update or otherwise change currently contracted for or new products and services for Client and other customers of Company;

(f) Company may use and disclose PHI for purposes of obtaining an authorization to use and disclose PHI or any other permission from an individual and

(g) Company may use and disclose PHI for Research purposes as permitted by applicable law.

Section 2.2. Safeguards. Company shall use reasonable and appropriate safeguards to prevent the use or disclosure of PHI except as otherwise permitted or required by this Addendum. In addition, Company shall implement Administrative Safeguards, Physical Safeguards and Technical Safeguards that reasonably and appropriately protect the Confidentiality, Integrity and Availability of PHI transmitted or maintained in Electronic Media (“EPHI”) that it creates, receives, maintains or transmits on behalf of the Client. Company shall comply with the HIPAA Security Rule with respect to EPHI.

Section 2.3. Minimum Necessary Standard. To the extent required by the “minimum necessary” requirements of HIPAA, Company shall only request, use and disclose the minimum amount of PHI necessary to accomplish the purpose of the request, use or disclosure.

Section 2.4. Mitigation. Company shall take reasonable steps to mitigate, to the extent practicable, any harmful effect (that is known to Company) of a use or disclosure of PHI by Company in violation of this Addendum.

Section 2.5. Subcontractors. Company shall enter into a written agreement meeting the requirements of 45 C.F.R. §§ 164.504(e) and 164.314(a)(2) with each Subcontractor (including, without limitation, a Subcontractor that is an agent under applicable law) that creates, receives, maintains or transmits PHI on behalf of Company. Company shall ensure that the written agreement with each Subcontractor obligates the Subcontractor to comply with restrictions and conditions that are at least as restrictive as the restrictions and conditions that apply to Company under this Addendum.

Section 2.6. Reporting Requirements.

(a) If Company becomes aware of a use or disclosure of PHI in violation of this Agreement by Company or by a third party to which Company disclosed PHI, Company shall report any such use or disclosure to the Client without unreasonable delay.

(b) Company shall report any Security Incident involving EPHI that is not an Unsuccessful Security Incident (as defined below) of which Company becomes aware without unreasonable delay. Company hereby notifies Client of pings and other broadcast attacks on a firewall, denial of service attacks, port scans, unsuccessful login attempts, interception of encrypted information where the encryption key is not compromised, and other Unsuccessful Security Incidents. Company will provide additional information about Unsuccessful Security Incidents on a reasonable basis, orally or in writing, if requested by Client. If the HIPAA security regulations are amended to remove the requirement to report Unsuccessful Security Incidents, the requirement hereunder to report Unsuccessful Security Incidents will no longer apply as of the effective date of the amendment. “Unsuccessful Security Incident” means a Security Incident that does not involve unauthorized access, use, disclosure, modification or destruction of EPHI or interference with an Information System in a manner that poses a material threat to the Confidentiality, Integrity, or Availability of the EPHI.

(c) Company shall, following the discovery of a Breach of Unsecured PHI, notify the Client of the Breach in accordance with 45 C.F.R. § 164.410 without unreasonable delay and in no case later than sixty (60) days after discovery of the Breach.

Section 2.7. Access to Information. Company shall make available PHI to Client in accordance with this Agreement for so long as Company maintains the PHI in a Designated Record Set. If Company receives a request for access to PHI directly from an Individual, Company shall forward such request to Client within ten (10) business days. Client shall have the sole responsibility for determining whether to approve a request for access to PHI and to provide such access to the Individual.

Section 2.8. Availability of PHI for Amendment. Company shall provide PHI to Client for amendment, and incorporate any such amendments in the PHI (for so long as Company maintains such information in the Designated Record Set), in accordance with this Agreement and as required by 45 C.F.R. § 164.526. If Company receives a request for amendment to PHI directly from an Individual, Company shall forward such request to Client within ten (10) business days. Client shall have the sole responsibility for determining whether to approve an amendment to PHI and to make such amendment.

Section 2.9. Accounting of Disclosures. Within thirty (30) business days of written notice by Client to Company that it has received a request for an accounting of disclosures of PHI (other than disclosures to which an exception to the accounting requirement applies), Company shall make available to Client such information as is in Company’s possession and is required for Client to make the accounting required by 45 C.F.R. § 164.528. If Company receives a request for an accounting directly from an Individual, Company shall forward such request to Client within seven (7) business days. Client shall have the sole responsibility for providing an accounting to the Individual.

Section 2.10. Availability of Books and Records. Following reasonable advance written notice, Company shall make its internal practices, books and records relating to the use and disclosure of PHI received from, or created or received by Company on behalf of, Client available to the Secretary for purposes of determining Client’s compliance with HIPAA.

III. OBLIGATIONS OF THE CLIENT

Section 3.1. Permissible Requests. The Client shall not request Company to use or disclose PHI in any manner that would not be permissible under HIPAA if done by Client.

Section 3.2. Minimum Necessary Information. When Client discloses PHI to Company, Client shall provide the minimum amount of PHI necessary for the accomplishment of Client's purpose.

Section 3.3. Appropriate Disclosure of PHI to Company. Client and its employees, representatives, consultants, contractors and agents shall not disclose or otherwise submit any Protected Health Information to Company outside of the Licensed Software or the Hosted Software, including, but not limited to, submissions to any online forum made available by Company to its customers or email transmissions.

Section 3.4. Permissions; Restrictions. Client warrants that it has obtained and will obtain any consent, authorization and/or other legal permission required under HIPAA and other applicable law for the disclosure of PHI to Company. Client shall notify Company of any changes in, or revocation of, the permission by an Individual to use or disclose his or her PHI, to the extent that such changes may affect Company's use or disclosure of PHI. Client shall not agree to any restriction on the use or disclosure of PHI under 45 CFR § 164.522 that restricts Company's use or disclosure of PHI under this Agreement (including under this Addendum) unless such restriction is Required By Law or Company grants its written consent.

Section 3.5. Notice of Privacy Practices. Except as Required By Law, with Company's consent or as set forth in this Agreement, Client shall not include any limitation in Client's notice of privacy practices that limits Company's use or disclosure of PHI under this Agreement (including this Addendum).

IV. TERMINATION OF THIS AGREEMENT

Section 4.1. Addendum Term. Without limiting any other term of this Agreement (including this Addendum), this Addendum shall continue in full force and effect for so long as Company maintains any PHI.

Section 4.2. Termination Upon Breach of this Addendum. Any other provision of this Agreement notwithstanding, this Agreement may be terminated by either Party (the "Non-Breaching Party") upon ninety (90) days written notice to the other Party (the "Breaching Party") in the event that the Breaching Party materially breaches this Addendum in any material respect and such breach is not cured within such ninety (90) day period. Any determination of whether a material breach has been cured shall be made by Company in its sole discretion.

Section 4.3. Return or Destruction of PHI upon Termination. Upon termination of this Agreement, Company shall return or destroy all PHI received from Client or created or received by Company on behalf of Client and which Company still maintains as PHI. Notwithstanding the foregoing, to the extent that Company determines, in its sole discretion, that it is not feasible to return or destroy such PHI, this Addendum (including, without limitation, Section 2.1(d) of this Addendum) shall survive termination of this Agreement and such PHI shall be used or disclosed solely for such purpose or purposes which prevented the return or destruction of such PHI.
